

Four escape serious injury as plane flips

Police and bystanders inspect the wreckage of a Cessna 177 Cardinal which crashed late Friday afternoon at the Stanhope Township airport. The pilot and three passengers escaped with minor injuries after the plane's landing gear struck a fence and flipped over.

Attempting to land his single engine Cessna 177 Cardinal at Stanhope airport on Friday, pilot Richard Longhurst of Toronto overshot the runway and crashed his plane in a near by field. The pilot and his three passengers received only slight injuries.

"The pilot apparently was late in touching down and tried to take off again," said Derek Rolfe, a member of the Stanhope Airport Committee. "But his front wheel clipped the top of a fence at the end of the runway and the plane came down again, plowing through a field until it flipped over about 75 feet from the end of the runway."

The aircraft was extensively damaged in the crash. Nancy Bussey lives close to the airport and saw the accident. "I was outside talking to friends when we heard the noise of the plane engine," Bussey said. "We looked over expecting to see it take off when it clipped the fence and came down again."

"It was like slow motion," she added. "The plane just sort of plowed for a while and then flipped over."

"As soon as we saw it flip we took off across the field to get everyone out because I could see in my mind the plane exploding. But when we arrived the passengers and pilot had got out on their own."

Derek Rolfe said the accident was the worst there has been at Stanhope Airport. He added however, that, "the whole thing was very fortunate indeed. It could easily have been much worse."

The plane sustained damage to the nose, landing gear, tail section, wings, and propeller. It has not yet been determined whether it can be repaired.

Dysart deputy alleges road worker drunk

Allegations of drunkenness among some workers on county road construction projects have been made by Dysart Deputy Reeve Bill

Davis. Speaking at the September 17 meeting of Haliburton County Council, Davis said the consumption of alcohol on the job was only one of a number of problems facing the county roads department.

Speaking to county roads engineer Bill Obee, Mr. Davis alleged that the operator of a machine used to spread gravel was drunk at a job on County Road 6 and on County Road 4. He did not say whether it was the same man on both jobs, nor did he identify the driver.

Mr. Davis went on to say that there is an alcohol problem on a number of county road projects and that, "complaints about the use of alcohol are rampant."

Asked if he was aware that alcohol was being consumed on some county road jobs, Mr. Obee said he was not.

Mr. Davis also charged that there are serious problems with some recent road work in the county. Too much crushed stone, he said, had been spread on County Road 6, and as a result, cars driving over the road were getting broken windshields and chipped paint from stone thrown up by vehicle's tires.

Big draw next Thursday

It will be "Lights!, Camera!, Action!" next Thursday evening, October 2, in Minden as the Ontario Lottery Corporation and Global Television roll into town for the 477th Wintario Draw. The lottery program will be telecast live from the Minden arena.

The show, with its contingent of technicians, battery of lights and cameras and hosts Faye Dance and Greg Beresford, will be in town as guests of the Minden Lions Club. Following an invitation issued earlier this year, the corporation agreed to hold their weekly draw in this community.

Prior to the live television broadcast, which goes on the air at 8:30 p.m., there will be a program of entertainment with local emcee Bill Payne. Included in the program will be the Archie Stouffer Elementary School Band and the country and western band Just Plain Country.

At 8:30 p.m. the real excitement of the evening gets underway as the giant lottery machines are set in motion to select the winning number for the week's Wintario prizes.

Everyone has been invited to watch the show being produced at the community centre. Admission to the evening is $3, which includes a ticket valid for that night's draw. Proceeds from the gate will go to community projects. The doors open at 6:30 p.m.

Members of the Junior Redmen defensive team combine their efforts to bring an I.E. Weldon ball carrier to the ground Friday afternoon during a football game at HHSS. Co-operating in the group effort are Jason Stoughton (40), Kevin Sauve (19) and an unidentified member of the defence.

Parents prepare to fight school closing

Since the Haliburton County Board of Education announced last spring that Gooderham Public School was a candidate for closure because of declining enrolment and financial constraint, area parents have been organizing to prevent the loss of their school.

Already a petition protesting the board's action has been signed by most Gooderham residents, and a committee has been formed to present a brief to the board.

Craig Pettit, chairman of the committee, is confident his group can offer a strong argument. "It's true that enrolment has gone down in the last couple of years - next year will be the worst - but we know that within the next five years it will be higher than normal."

Gooderham Public School includes classes from kindergarten to grade four and has a normal enrolment of about 25. Twenty-one children attended this year and that number is expected to drop to 18 or 19 next year.

"But five years from now we have figures to show that the school could be taking in as many as 30 kids," said Mr. Pettit.

He said that quality of education was also one of the board's considerations. "We've checked with other schools. Our children are getting as much, and in many cases more, than children who attend school elsewhere."

Although the board has said the Gooderham school is a candidate for closure, it has not yet decided to close the school.

Mr. Pettit said one of his primary considerations is with the bus ride Gooderham children will have to take to alternative schools in Haliburton or Minden if their's is closed. It will add an extra two hours onto their day, he explained. "It's all right for you or me to work a long day, but what is the effect on a five year-old going to be? I think it would give a kid a pretty bad attitude about things."

Mr. Pettit also remarked that it appeared Minden and Haliburton schools would not be prepared for an influx of Gooderham children. "They're already using portable classrooms at Victoria Street and Minden schools so they don't have the facility to cope with what they've got now," he said.

Dorset acid rain report

The following report on the acidity of precipitation at the Ontario Ministry of Environment testing station in Dorset was prepared by Environment Canada. There were three precipitation events recorded at the station during the past week:

- on September 15, 10 mm of rain fell with a pH of 4.5. The track of the rainfall was traced to northwestern Ontario and central Ontario.

- on September 16, one mm of rain was recorded with a pH of 4.6. The path of this rain was traced to Hudson Bay and northwestern Quebec.

- on September 19, four mm of rain fell with a pH of 4.4. The rain was tracked from Michigan and central Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 or less are considered dangerous to the environment. The lower the pH reading the more acidic the precipitation.

2100 attend area rabies clinics

Over 2100 rabies vaccinations were administered to domestic cats and dogs during special clinics held during the past two weeks.

According to the three veterinarians serving the Minden, Haliburton and Cobocok areas, they were extremely busy during the clinic days and yet they feel that only a small portion of the unvaccinated pets have received the shots.

The clinics were held as a result of a regulation which designated this area as one of a number in the province in which domestic pet cats and dogs are required to have rabies vaccinations. The injections were administered at $5 per animal.

At the Minden Animal Clinic under the supervision of Dr. Peter Bennett, 677 animals received the vaccination during the two days. At two clinics at the Gull River Veterinary Clinic, Dr. Tom DeGeer injected 638 animals. Dr.

Laurie Brown in Haliburton vaccinated a total of 819 animals in clinics held in Haliburton and Wilberforce.

All three veterinarians agreed that the number of animals they saw during the two days represented a small portion of the pets which go without the rabies vaccination. One vet suggested the number was less than 25% of the potential animal population. These numbers do not include the animals which are regularly taken for their vaccinations by their owners.

It was pointed out that the single vaccination did not protect the pets from other diseases which could be fatal to the dogs and cats. The rabies vaccination effort was carried out to reduce the potential of humans coming in contact with an animal which has been exposed to rabies. As one yet noted, the clinics were held to provide protection for the area's human population.

The lineup stretched from the front door back out to the parking lot Saturday at the Minden Animal Clinic when the second of two rabies clinics was held. 677 animals received vaccinations during the Minden special clinics. Vaccination of domestic dogs and cats against rabies is now mandatory throughout Haliburton County.

Responsibility

The residents of Haliburton County should be alarmed to discover that over 2000 pet cats and dogs were, until the last two weekends, walking about without protection from rabies. Those animals posed a potential serious human health risk if they came in contact with a rabid animal and then made contact with a human.

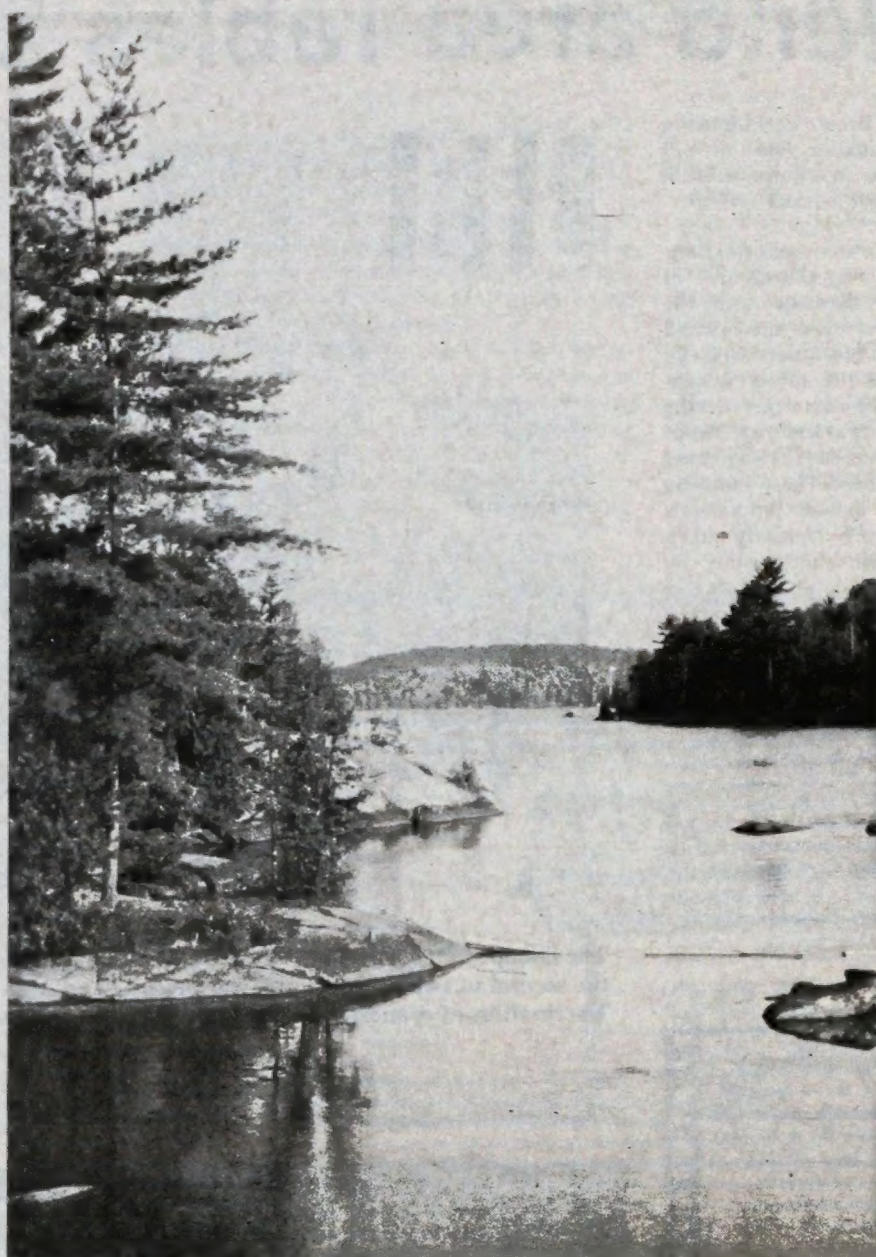

Some might consider that possibility remote, but health officials feel the threat of the disease is serious enough to warrant declaring this area one in which domestic pets must receive the injection. The threat from rabid wild animals, animals common to most everyone's back yard at some time through the year, is real and one that all responsible pet owners must take seriously. Quite frankly, we're surprised that the six vaccination clinics held in the area, drew such large numbers.

We're even more concerned at the comments of one veterinarian that the turnout represented a mere tip of the unvaccinated (against rabies) dogs and cats in the area.

The seriousness of rabies should be enough to motivate pet owners to ensure their animals receive a vaccination. However, it would appear that special clinics and regulations are required before the general public can feel at ease.

Investigation required

Dysart Deputy Reeve Bill Davis has levelled a number of allegations at the County's road department. Some directly concern the safety of the public using area roads, others question administrative practices within the department. The allegations are serious and should be investigated to ascertain if they have any basis in fact. If, in fact, they are true, corrective measures must be taken. If they are not factual, then the county roads employees, county council and area residents, deserve an explanation and apology.

Editor:

Yvonne Guida graciously sent me, by Air Mail to England, her book of poems 'Metered Moments'. I was deeply touched that this exceedingly talented woman, writer, poet, painter, should remember me with such kindness, especially as our first meeting was my visiting her in Minden hospital. I found her delightful. I still do.

On opening the book - carefully reading each poem, I reached page 76 and found 'Flame of Freedom', written for me. Most pleasant surprise!

I found 'Flame of Freedom' optimistic, sensitive and infinitely aware of the chaos mankind has created in so many areas of this beautiful Earth. Likewise, her other poems show the writings of a woman who has vividly lived through grief and joy, ever remembering the mercies of God and the gentle richness of true friendship and love.

There reads a 'Crusade' in several of her poems; Heaven bless her humour! (We all know, do we not, that laughter do'eth good like a medicine?)

I am warmly happy to have this enlightening book of poems, generously written by a generous heart. I trust many Minden folk will buy, read and find loving-kindness between the pages.

Small business prefers free trade says survey

- by Bill Scott, MP -

According to the survey of its membership conducted by the Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB), "the Canadian small business sector believes by a margin of five to one that freer trade with the United States would either be a positive factor for their firms, or have no impact at all".

In 22,528 personal interviews, 35.4% said lower trade barriers would have a positive effect on their businesses. A total of 32.5% felt there would be no impact on their firms, while 13.9% said they expected negative results. The remainder, 18.3%, were undecided.

By province, British Columbia's small business sector was the most positive, with 45.4% expressing the view that lower barriers would be helpful and 25.5% expecting no impact. Only 9.2% said they anticipated negative repercussions for their businesses. The largest number of negative responses was in Ontario (17.1%). Even there, however, the number viewing freer trade was positive (33.2%) was twice as large as the number viewing it as negative. In all provinces, more small busi-

More local issues can be expected this fall, as shoreline properties - particularly along the Great Lakes - are undermined, eroded or storm-damaged. Many - near Southampton, Simcoe, Leamington, Wasaga Beach and a host of other locales - have become centres of controversy, as property owners lament damage or press for permits to fill and build jetties, breakwalls or other structures. The irony is that the "problem" is perfectly predictable and that most damage is the inevitable result of human shortsightedness.

The Great lakes are at an unusual - but not extreme - high, the product of several years of above-average rainfall. 1985, in particular, produced about 25% more precipitation than average, over the upper lakes' drainage basin. The same cloud cover that produced the rain also reduced direct sun, and "evapotranspiration" - the return of moisture to the air by plants and evaporation. The result was more water added, and less evaporated.

One certainty in nature is that rainfall - like storms - will not be the same year-in, year-out. Both will oscillate, over time, within reasonably predictable limits. Against the time-scale of nature, human memory is short indeed. Just as another Hurricane - Hazel - in - Toronto is a certainty (though nobody is sure when), so are higher - and lower - lake levels.

Through a process known as sieche, the "drag" of wind on a lake's surface (the same one that creates waves) also piles the water onto the wind-blown shore, tilting the lake in the process. In strong storms, the surface of Great Lakes may slope 1 1/2 meters or more, raising and moving the "pummelling level" of waves well inland. And the flatter the shore, the further inland damage occurs.

In the Great Lakes climate, fall and early winter are generally the period of greatest storms. (Although small, exceptionally violent thundercells develop in the summer, spawning hail and tornadoes, they are rarely on a scale sufficient to set up sieche and sustained waves.) Movement of the high-atmosphere jet stream, coupled with the changing and moving airmasses over the continent generate major storm systems. And to the misfortune of the north shores of Lake Erie and Ontario, many of these track from the south or even east - directions rather unusual in summer.

As the major storms roll through from the west, south and east, the combin-

Council ponders Lutterworth library future

Once again the question of a township library was discussed at the Lutterworth Council meeting on Thursday, but no decision was reached.

The library, which was housed in the basement of the municipal building, was closed by council last June in order to provide more space for the township's by law enforcement officer. Another reason given for the closure was the declining use of the library; in 1985 an average of less than 10 books a day were borrowed, council was told in June.

At Thursday's meeting, some council members expressed concern about letters from Lutterworth residents complaining about the move to close the library.

Councillor Al Stott commented that by giving the by law enforcement officer the space occupied by the library, council had gained nothing. The basement of the municipal building, he said, is still a damp and unpleasant place and the by law enforcement officer continues to do a large part of his work upstairs in the council chambers.

"Perhaps the reason so few people used the library was that it was such an uncomfortable place to be," said Councillor Carol Puffer.

Construction of an extension to the municipal building which would house both the library and more office space, was suggested as a possible solution to the problem.

Reeve Bill Valentine noted that the main building itself is of poor quality and badly constructed.

It was also noted that the township owns only a small amount of land at the present municipal centre. "We're boxed in here," said Mr. Valentine.

Carol Puffer noted that the township could apply for government assistance. "There are plenty of grants available," she said. "The township needs a proper centre and a proper place to meet."

It was suggested that a new centre could be built on land the township owns off Highway 121, which amounts, said clerk treasurer Wayne Hughes, to about 50 acres.

Although these alternatives were discussed, council reached no decision on the matter.

At the July 16th meeting, shortly after the library had been closed, council heard a regional consultant from the Ontario Ministry of Citizenship and Culture give a talk on possible government assistance for the construction of a new library. The consultant said it would involve a "feasibility study" which she said would cost $20,000.

Mr. Valentine noted at the time that for that price the township could buy a building. Council decided not to have the study carried out.

Wind, waves, high water

ed action of high water, sieche and wind-driven waves exact their toll on the leeward shorelines.

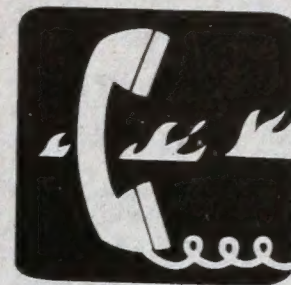

Forecasting which shorelines will be hit each fall, and how hard, is like a dice game. You're not sure how many rolls (storms) there will be, or which combination of direction, sieche and wave-strength will occur. But sooner or later, all of the numbers come up, hitting in random rotation, each shoreline with each strength. And when the violent ones occur - like the storm that virtually demolished the cottage subdivision at Long Point last fall - the devastation can be unbelievable.

The real solution is actually quite simple. Keep storm-prone development off "living features" like sand spits, which move over time. And keep it inland (or upland), out of harm's way.

The Conservation Authorities and municipalities - so often painted as villains for not allowing construction or expansion on such hazard lands - are acting in the long-term interest of current owners and their successors. If anything, they're too gentle - as each fall's storm devastation should remind us.

by Shawn Hagerman

This week our manager, Shirley Rapson was speaking with Brian Legree of CKLY Radio in Lindsay.

The Lindsay radio station is having a salute to Haliburton beginning on the 22nd of September and running for the next ten days. They will be highlighting the fall colours of our area. There will be inter-vies and vignettes of various people and stories of Haliburton.

Interviewing live at 9:30 and 11:30 in the morning beginning on Monday the 22nd through to Friday the 26th, various people from the Highlands, including, I hear, Harry Davis, John Eakins, Barb Bolin, Dave Willis and Ross Carver. Altogether it amounts to somewhere between 1,500 and 2,000 dollars of air time donated to promote the Highlands.

The radio station has a new owner, in Andy McNab. At age 26 he is the youngest radio station owner in Canada today. Lindsay was the first, and is still donating air time for Elgin Stouffer's weather reports and special events reports from the Highlands. It is nice when a station like Lindsay extends itself to promote our area. They are deserving of our continued support.

P.S. I think I blew my big break in show business. Since the interviews were live, and I couldn't find the time to be in Lindsay. Well, that's show biz.

Firms in the mining, oil and gas sector were the most positive, at 52.4%, of any industry group in terms of lower trade barriers. The agriculture, forestry and fishing sector was the least positive about freer trade with a negative rating of 31.1%. However, this figure is less than the 33.4% in that sector that were positive. The number of positive responses exceeded the number of negative responses in all groups.

There are three quarter of a million small businesses in Canada. These independent enterprises account for virtually all of the new jobs created in Canada and are the backbone of our economy. They are the greatest source of new ideas, new opportunities and new wealth.

New program boosts tourism

A new investment incentive program to develop tourism in eastern Ontario including Haliburton County was announced Tuesday by John Eakins, Ontario Minister of Tourism and Recreation.

Destinations East is composed of seven programs designed to help eastern Ontario tourism operators adapt to new market trends; $3 million has been allocated to the programs in 1986-87.

"Eastern Ontario has some of the province's most appealing tourist attractions and amenities. It is time to build on strengths and to develop new opportunities," said Eakins.

"Destinations East is primarily directed toward smaller establishments, providing a flexible program that can address the needs of both private and public sectors," Eakins added.

The seven part program is expected to return half a million dollars in tax revenues to the province in the 1986-87 fiscal year and generate tourism spending by attracting more visitors to eastern Ontario.

The initiative will also create more jobs with 127 person years of construction employment being generated in the first year alone.

"Eastern Ontario must remain competitive with other tourist areas," said Eakins. "Destinations East will promote economic growth, help establish eastern Ontario as a first class tourism destination and demonstrate our government's commitment to eastern Ontario."

Information regarding eligibility criteria and applications are available through the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation's regional offices.

Parents advised on drug problems

"There are drugs in Haliburton - we just don't know how much or who has them," said Jerry Weymark from the Addiction Research Foundation in Peterborough.

Mr. Weymark was speaking to a group of parents and teachers at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on Monday night. The event was called Drug and Alcohol Abuse Parent Concern Night and was sponsored by the Haliburton Home and School Association.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Joan Gitelman, executive director of the Parents Against Drugs organization, explained to the group how they could stop the spread of drug use in their community.

About four and a half years ago, Mrs. Gitelman said, two sets of Toronto parents began to fear their children might be taking drugs. "So they got together with 14 pairs of parents of their children's friends, she explained, "and they discussed the problem."

The parents soon discovered that children of 12 of the 14 sets of parents were taking drugs. Believing that in order to solve the problem, they had to educate themselves about drug use, that group of parents soon discovered that some kids in every community and every was formed it has done a lot to stem the flow of drugs in Toronto schools.

Some of the schemes PAD has initiated include:

- Just Say No. A program aimed at kids in grades four to seven in which they are shown how to say no when offered drugs. Many kids, said Mrs. Gitelman, don't know how - or why - to refuse when drugs are offered by a peer.

- A program aimed at children in grade eight in which they learn "value clarification," facts about marijuana and how to work with small groups of other school were taking drugs.

One thing the parents found early, said Mrs. Gitelman, is that most kids have been approached to take marijuana by the time they reach grade 8.

Those parents, said Mrs. Gitelman, were the beginning of PAD, or Parents Against Drugs.

kids. These kids then try to pass on their knowledge to younger children.

- The PAD hotline. A telephone number which can be dialled by parents who are worried their kids may be taking drugs. PAD workers will supply helpful information on what to do about it.

Mrs. Gitelman went on to say that Haliburton County parents and teachers could get together and establish a similar group. By doing so, she said, they could do something about children taking drugs in their community.

Allegations levelled

Mr. Obee said he was not aware that too much gravel had been spread. Speaking to a Times reporter, Mr. Obee said later that the cars could have been damaged because they were moving too quickly over the road.

The Times also contacted Ministry of Transportation and Communications District Engineer Doug White. Though Mr. White said he knew nothing of the problems Mr. Davis was referring to and didn't want to get involved in the dispute, he did agree with Mr. Obee's statement that the damaged cars on County Road 6 could have been speeding.

Mr. Davis also suggested at the council meeting that paving work on a portion of County Road 1 had been carried out in the rain. There have been a large number of complaints from people who have driven over the road and had their cars marked by asphalt, he charged.

Asked if he had received any complaints about the paving work, Mr. Obee replied that he had not. The asphalt work, he said, had not been done in the rain, but it had rained shortly after the job was completed.

Another criticism Mr. Davis made was that some work projects were poorly signed. As soon as the paving work on County Road 1 was completed, he said, the signs were taken down, giving motorists no warning that they were driving over soft asphalt.

Also, he charged, there were no flagmen at a job on Parson's Road where workmen were widening a rock cut.

Mr. Obee said that it is county practice for paving crews to take their signs with them when they move on. Because the workers on the Parson's Road project were off the road, signs were placed, but flagmen, he said, were not considered necessary.

MTC District Engineer, Doug White said later that when road crews working for the ministry are off the road, flagmen are not used. But he did say that ministry paving crews leave signs warning motorists of new asphalt.

All of the road work to which Mr. Davis referred, except the Parson's Road project, was carried out by Miller Paving, a Toronto road construction company. Davis did not mention Miller Paving by name during his comments at the county council meeting.

Gary Grant, an estimator with Miller Paving who is also responsible for some of the work the company is doing in Haliburton County, said he was unaware of any alcohol problems.

"Those are very serious charges, he said, "and the company will certainly investigate."

Asked if there is any problem with Haliburton County roads, MTC engineer Doug White, who attends the county road committee meetings, said there is none. Asked if too much chip was spread on any Haliburton roads, he said, "I can't answer that question, I haven't driven over all of the county roads."

Members of the County Road Committee were also contacted. Neither Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick, nor Committee Chairman, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey offered any comment on Mr. Davis' allegations.

County Warden Harry Davis was willing to speak about the charges. "We've had problems with the county road system for a long time," he said. "Most of the difficulties, Mr. Davis explained, "arise from a lack of communication among roads staff."

"To begin with, there's no organizational chart, there's no responsibility chart, and there's no job description," he said. "And this we're going to correct."

Mr. Harry Davis said the roads problem is quite serious. "It's serious enough, that it's costing taxpayers a certain amount of money."

As far as the charges about alcohol on the job and drunkenness, the Warden said, every big company has to deal with such problems. He added that although he was not aware of the alcohol problem, the allegations were being taken seriously.

Second low net went to Barry Brown with a 64 followed by Bob Wall at 65, Ron Pasquino at 65 and Tony Hartin with a 66.

Bowlers find new greens

submitted

Fall is the time of the year when the County is temporarily given back to the natives, and the lawn bowlers get off their grass, and turn to the greens of Beaverbrook for their annual golf fun day.

This year being no different they gathered on the course by the Gull River on Tuesday, September 9. After due warning to some of the local "I" O'clockers to clear the tracks, and take cover, some 25 to 30 of mixed gender declared war on the turf. After a series of directed and misdirected shots, while attacking nine separate holes, and defeating same the gladiators retreated to their Club House to partake of the delicious offering of three chefs imparted at great expense from "Gay Paree".

This was apparently their first effort at the familiar "Hot Dog and Hamburger Delight" barbeque style.

During this time the Senior Accountants were struggling with "H. Math" to determine the winners. After many audits, the winners were:

Low gross ladies: Eddie Sedgewick.

Low gross men: Lloyd Boskett.

Low net ladies: Lorraine King.

Low net men: Herb Gill.

Second low gross ladies:

Doris Grant.

Second low gross men: Jim Burton.

Second low net ladies: Nancy Moore.

Second low net men: Cy Heal.

Third low gross ladies: Gloria Lemieux.

Third low net ladies: Gala Heal.

Longest drive: Roland Sedgewick.

Closest to pin, 8th hole: Keith Day.

Most honest golfer: "Millie" Boskett.

Mixed low net club champions: Lorraine King and Herb Gill.

Despite the efforts of the three "Chefs" a grand day was had by all the golfers and guests at the bunfest.

Next event on the calendar is the annual club bowling championship and dinner on the 8th of October when yearly prizes will be presented.

Thank you all for coming out and contributing to a fun time.

Amos Brubacher

Amos Brubacher, a resident of Minden for 25 years, passed away September 16 at his home in Cambridge. Mr. Brubacher and his wife, Luella, moved to the Mennonite retirement apartment complex in Cambridge in 1981.

Mr. Brubacher, born September 24, 1908, came to Minden in 1956 after serving as a Mennonite minister in the Elmira area for a number of years. He moved here to take over the charge of Henry Gingrich whose congregation met at the former Scotch Line school house. In 1960, he oversaw the construction of the North Road Chapel on Bobcaygeon Road, later to become the Associated Gospel Church in Minden.

He was well known throughout the community through his work as a rural route mailman and his involvement in the local Horticultural Society. The Haliburton County Association for the Mentally Retarded and the Gideon Society. Following his retirement as pastor of the local church, he continued to conduct services at Hyland Crest and participated in the religious education programs at Archie Stouffer Elementary School.

A memorial service was held September 18 in Floradale, Ontario, where his career as a minister began. 250 were in attendance for the special tribute. Committal was at the Floradale Mennonite Cemetery.

Amos S. Brubacher, is survived by his wife Luella Martin, daughters Audrey of Orillia, Margaret Frey of Alma, Elsie Martin of Elmira and son Donald of Sebringville. Also surviving are 11 grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren, four brothers and three sisters.

Branch marks Legion Week

by Gerald Irish

(Intended for last week)
Branch 129 is continuing to be a beehive of activity.

This past Saturday night, Del Dickenson, "The Yorkshire Lad" entertained a packed house in the Legion auditorium. With Del's inimitable comedy routines, the delightful music for dancing and the delicious lunch, everyone who attended had a great time. One of the highlights of the night was the efforts of Al Bibby from Minden and Doug Potter of Windsor to completely dress "Ethel", a vivacious mannequin.

Tuesday night Euchre and Thursday night Ladies' Shuffleboard have started again. The Legion Duffers' Golf Tournament was played on the 16th, followed by a banquet.

Entertainment at the Branch continues every Saturday night.

The September Highland Veteran bulletin is now being prepared. You can soon pick up your copy at the Branch or watch for it in the mail.

This week's 50 - 50 draw winner was Bob Clough who won $31.50. Congratulations Bob.

Happy birthday, Aunt Lou.

This week's report
Legion Week, September 21 to 27, got off to a great start in Haliburton with a Church Parade on Sunday morning. The wail of the Members of Branch 129 Royal Canadian Legion, Haliburton, celebrated Legion Week with a church parade September 21. Led by the legion pipes and drums and colour party, legion members marched to St. George's Anglican Church for services.

pipes, the steady beat of the drums, flags and colours flying in the breeze, and the marching feet of Branch 129's Legionnaires, Ladies Auxiliary and Cadets made this a memorable occasion.

Next weekend is District F's Drumhead Service in Picton. Unfortunately our band won't be able to attend but we will be represented by a large colour party and Legion members.

Legion curling, cardigan and pullover sweaters are now on sale at 50% reduction. Give your order to Jim at the Legion office.

Start planning your Hallowe'en costume now for the Hallowe'en Party in the club room on November 1st.

Congratulations to Richard Howe on winning the 50-50 draw this week.

Department of Veterans' Affairs representative, Gary Barker, will be at the Legion on Tuesday, September 30.

On Sunday afternoon the Bluegrass Committee Chairpersons met with Bluegrass promoter, Tony De Boer, to discuss the line-up of stars to appear at the 1987 Bluegrass Festival on August 7, 8 and 9. When all plans are finalized, you will be informed through this article.

We have also been successful at booking the "Boys from Indiana" for a March '87 performance - maybe two shows if ticket sales warrant them.

Short Program, 2:00 p.m.

Plan Viewing, and Refreshments following at the Legion Hall, Mountain Street

Seniors shut down Weldon 41 - 0

In high school football action, Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Redmen Seniors defeated the team from I.E. Weldon in Lindsay 41 to 0 in Friday's game. The game began when Haliburton kicked off the ball, giving I.E. Weldon possession. The Lindsay team took it for three downs and then punted, giving Haliburton possession at their 20 yard line.

With some nice running by Andrew Burk, who ran a total of 70 yards, Haliburton took the ball to the I.E. Weldon 20 yard line.

Haliburton quarterback Tom MacLeod then passed the ball to Alex Little who scored the first touchdown. The convert was kicked by Little, making the score 7 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Haliburton Seniors again dominated play in the second quarter. Early on, they took the ball to field goal position. It was kicked again by Little, but went wide, and Haliburton got a single point for it.

I.E. Weldon then took possession but were stopped after two downs. They punted on the third down and the ball was fielded by Mike MacNaull who ran in it for a touchdown.

The convert again was kicked by Little, making the score 15 to 0. With some excellent running by Jaro Cooper and Andrew Burk, the ball was taken to the I.E. Weldon one yard line. Quarterback MacLeod then took it in for a touchdown. Once again Little kicked the convert.

The ball was received by Haliburton at the beginning of the third quarter and moved to the I.E. Weldon 34 yard line. In the next play the ball was fumbled but picked up by Andrew Burk who ran it in for a touchdown.

Late in the third quarter, Andrew Burk scored his second touchdown on an option play. Haliburton missed both converts in the third quarter.

Once again in the fourth quarter, the ball changed hands two or three times. Late in the quarter, Haliburton's Tom MacLeod threw a 30 yard pass to Trevor Powers who then ran it in for a touchdown.

The convert was kicked by Scooter Burgess, making the score 41-0.

At the end of the game, a big question still remained: Was I.E. Weldon that poor, or Haliburton just very good?

This Friday HHSS plays Fenelon Falls. The junior game will begin first at 1:30 p.m. and the senior game at 3:00 p.m. The games will be played in Haliburton.

The results of the Junior Redmen game were not available at press time.

Junior Redmen coaches John Fitzgerald and Cam Bolt keep a close eye on the action from the sidelines during Friday's game against I.E. Weldon Secondary School of Lindsay.

Wetlands protection program funded

Ducks Unlimited and Wildlife Habitat Canada have signed separate agreements with the province that will provide a total of $1-million annually to secure Ontario's most valuable remaining wetland areas.

More than 200 years of development have wiped out 80 per cent of the original wetlands in southern Ontario.

Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio announced recently that his ministry will provide $250,000 a year to secure wetland areas using such arrangements as purchase, easements, bequests, grants, tax rebates as well as other landowner agreements.

Ducks Unlimited will match that amount, on activities specifically related to securing of wetland, and Wildlife Habitat Canada has agreed to match the combined MNR and DU funds up to a total of $500,000 annually for habitat securement for waterfowl and other wetlands' species.

Natural Resources Deputy Minister Mary Mogford signed the agreements recently on behalf of Mr. Kerrio at the Fall Outdoors Show sponsored by Ontario Out of Doors at Toronto's International Centre.

Ms. Mogford said the agreements "represent an important co-operative effort to preserve and protect remaining wetland areas for the benefit of this and future generations."

This investment follows years of planning by the Ontario government for the development of the comprehensive provincial wetlands policy - a complex process that has involved many groups, and municipalities.

Ontario's Guidelines for Wetlands Management were released for public comment in 1984. Four Ontario ministries - Natural Resources, Environment, Agriculture and Food, and Municipal Affairs - have summarized the comments, which will be released for public review next year.

"What we are doing is ensuring that Ontario's provincial policy on wetlands will be well-understood and well-supported,"

Ms. Mogford said.

Mr. Kerrio said that under these agreements, "we will focus on securing Class I and II wetlands which have been identified as provincially significant."

"These areas also include staging areas for waterfowl, areas that have the potential to produce waterfowl, and those that are of scientific and natural interest," he said.

Mr. Kerrio said the government is continuing to review concerns identified in public comments, such as a landowner compensation program and municipal zoning procedures.

The ministry is also continuing a wetlands assessment and classification program evaluating wetlands in southern Ontario.

"Most of the matched funding for this securement program has been generated from sportsmen who are members of Ducks Unlimited and contributors to Wildlife Habitat Canada through the purchase of migratory bird hunting permits and the new wildlife habitat stamp," Mr. Kerrio said.

"These people have shown they are concerned about the rapid decline of wetlands habitat, and that they want to do something about it."

Association pleased with progress

With 172 people in attendance, the sixth annual Haliburton County Home Support Services meeting on Friday was a complete success.

Co-ordinator Donna Bailey thanked businesses and individuals who have been of help to Home Support over the past year, including Campbell's Garden Centre, the Haliburton Legion, Radio Shack and Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. She also extended gratitude to all the volunteers and staff members at Home Support.

Guest speaker, Raymond Applebaum, was introduced by Dorothy Robertson. Mr. Applebaum is director of Yaylor Place in Toronto and president of Older Adult Centres Association of Ontario, but he is soon to step down in order to take another position.

In his speech, Mr. Applebaum talked about the history of Home

Raymond Applebaum addresses the sixth annual meeting of the Haliburton County Home Support Services held Thursday at the Legion Hall in Haliburton.

Support Services and Drop-In Centres in Ontario.

Home Support services, he said, developed in the 1950's out of Older Adult Centres. The centres were funded either by charitable organizations or by municipal governments, he explained.

Provincial funding didn't come, he said, until 1968.

"In 1968 the Ministry of Community and Social Services funded 125 Elderly Person Centres and announced funding for 50 additional centres," he continued.

Mr. Applebaum said he hoped the Haliburton centre would be approved by the Ministry this year as an Elderly Persons Centre.

An Elderly Person Centre combines the benefits of a home support service and a drop-in centre.

The main function of such centres, Mr. Applebaum said, is to help older people and retirees to live better lives by providing services so they can live on their own and by giving them a place to socialize.

A new Home Support executive was also elected at the meeting. Helen Henderson was voted in as the new president.

The first vice-president is Adele Baines and the second vice-president is Cy Yeomans.

Elva Robinson was elected as treasurer and Lenore Gillespie as secretary.

The new past-president is Robert Hollobon.

A new board of directors, 26 people from every village in Haliburton County was also elected.

It was announced at the meeting that some Home Support staff have received title changes. One of these is Donna Bailey's; her official title has been changed from co-ordinator to executive director.

Police probe thefts

During the week of September 15 to 21, officers of Minden OPP detachment investigated 64 general occurrences which included:

6 break and enters, 6 thefts, 1 liquor violation, one 12 hour suspension and two impaired drivers. Six traffic accidents were also reported resulting in three persons injured.

Theft

A 14 foot Grumman boat and a 25 h.p. Merc motor were stolen September 15 from Kawagama Lake. Allan Desroches of Downsview had used the boat to go to a portion of the lake to go on a canoe trip. When he returned to the place he had left the boat and motor, valued at $3500, they were gone.

Constable Dave Rogers is investigating the incident.

Truck rollover

Approximately 300 litres of clear diesel fuel leaked from the tank of a fuel truck owned by Cecil Sullivan Gulf Services of Barry's Bay when the truck rolled on to its side causing the load to spill. The incident took place on September 15 on Hadlington Road while the truck was enroute to Ambro Construction building site. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $700 and Ministry of Environment inspector John Ross was at the scene to continue the investigation.

Constable Ben Manuge was the investigating officer.

Fun night marks end of summer

Summer officially came to an end in Stanhope Township this past weekend. The occasion was marked by the Scenic Highway 35 Association's Corn Roast and Fun Night at the Stanhope Fire Fighter's Hall.

Under a large tent, the participants enjoyed music, dancing, skits, belly dancers, a tasty roast beef supper and all the corn on the cob they could consume. While there was no count taken of the number of cobs eaten, the size of the crowd surpassed the number from last year.

The Scenic Highway 35

Association is a group of merchants along the Highway 35 corridor who have formed an association to promote tourism between Minden and Dorset. They chose the right time of year for the celebration, as the highway is at its scenic best right now.

In addition to an evening of dancing and merriment, the association announced the winners of a number of summer competitions. The prize for the largest bass caught in the adjacent lakes went to Cliff Archer of London, Ontario. His fish weighed in at 4 3/4 pounds. The largest lake trout was netted by Jack O'Connor of Toronto. It weighed in at 13 1/2 pounds.

The photo contest, summer scenes, was won by Bev Clark of Kushog Lake. His entry, was a moody morning shot of a mist covered Kushog Lake. He won a $75 Black's Camera Store gift certificate. The second prize went to Marilyn Walker of Minden. Her entry was a shot of Buttermilk Falls. Would-be photographers were reminded that the association is sponsoring an autumn and winter photo contest. Details concerning entries can be obtained from posters at Highway 35 businesses or by contacting Fred Chapple at the Four Seasons Country Mart in Carnarvon.

Throughout the summer, the association members have been selling draw tickets on a windsurfer. The draw was made at midnight Saturday evening. The winner was Lino Cugini of Woodbridge.

The following are the results of the Greater Minden Local Yokels Invitational Golf Classic held Monday, September 15 at Blairhampton Golf Course.

This year we had a lot of firsts. Gregg Austin fractured his leg on Sunday, but that didn't stop him from golfing on Monday.

Simon Cox from England was on his first game. He had a new record of 226 and a single hole at 20 strokes.

Tonye from Nigeria played his first game ever and carded a 106! He now is going back home to sell golf to his countrymen. (Nigeria doesn't have golf courses).

Bob Smith came in best with a 76. Gary Chapman received an award for the worst looking hat in North America. The big surprise was our perennial worst golfer (when Dean Elliott isn't in attendance) Bill Obec had a hole in one on the third hole. It was a great day despite the weather.

Designated rabies vaccine area

- Ag report -

By now I expect every farmer in Victoria and Haliburton Counties is aware that our area has been "designated" under The Ontario Health Protection and Promotion Act, and that all dogs and cats in the Counties must be vaccinated against rabies.

Rabies is an extremely serious problem. It is a fatal disease for any warmblooded animal, including humans, once the symptoms develop.

In Ontario in 1985 there was almost a 50% increase in cases of animal rabies over the previous year. In the area covered by our local Health Unit, there was another significant increase in the number of positive rabies cases in the first six months of 1986 over the same period in 1985. Because rabies is a fatal disease, and the only protection against the disease if you are exposed to it is a rabies vaccine, any humans coming into contact with a suspected rabid animal are immediately treated. It costs about $500.00 for the vaccine to treat one person.

Because dogs and cats have such close association with humans, a logical measure to control the high incidence of this disease in the area is to vaccinate dogs and cats. In Ontario, there have been more people exposed to rabid cats than to rabid dogs, however, only 15% of the cats have been vaccinated, as opposed to 40% of the dogs.

With the above information, we all have to support the principle and the objective of having our dogs and cats vaccinated against rabies. For people with housecats, there is no serious difficulty, however, barn cats are another matter. A number of farmers have expressed concern to us about how to catch their barn cats, and then how to effectively transport them to the rabies clinics in the County.

One logical alternative is to have your barn cats vaccinated by your veterinarian on the farm at the earliest convenient opportunity. This would logically be when your veterinarian makes his/her next farm visit for a herd health check-up or for regular treatment of other animals on the farm. If you do not have a veterinarian making regular visits to your farm, then you could have this immunization visit in conjunction with a regular veterinarian visit to a neighbouring farm. Call the veterinarian of your choice right away to let them know that you wish to have your cats vaccinated in this manner, and an appointment can then be scheduled.

Live animal traps are effective for catching cats which are difficult to capture - these are available on a loan basis from Ministry of Natural Resources offices in Lindsay and Minden.

If you are placing cats in a bag to contain them prior to vaccination, an onion sack is an ideal type bag. If this is not available, select as clean a bag as possible.

The local Health Unit hopes that all cats and dogs will be vaccinated as soon as possible, and at least by the end of 1986. Rabies is a serious disease and this immunization project deserves our support.

Minden Women's Institute

Mrs. C. Lacey, the president, welcomed the ladies to the September 17th meeting of Minden Women's Institute at the Library Cultural Centre. After the usual opening and business, there were 16 members, one of them a new one Mrs. G. Scott present, and Roll Call was answered by "When you last cooked on a wood stove".

Mrs. W. Moore read her report of 39 cards sent since June meeting. Collections for Card Fund and Pennies for Friendship were taken. The correspondence and notes were taken by past-Secretary Mrs. Sears as Mrs. Lyman Cox was away. A delegate is to go to Area Convention and the resolution had its first reading.

Mrs. A. Coulter read a paper on "Colds", its causes, cures and varieties, and how much time and money is wasted on a cure. Now we know colds are spread through the nose and ASA or other pills and hot soup are as good as anything. This paper was much appreciated.

Mrs. W. Moore had brought a short reading which was true for our times.

The meeting adjourned and all enjoyed a short visit. Next meeting is October 15 at same place at 2 and all ladies are welcome.

Well readers; the news will be very short as I am not up to par. As usual, our week started with service in the chapel, conducted by Rev. J. Burgess and Mrs. Burgess. Tuesday morning no minister came so Linda English took over. I understand she did very well.

Peter and Margaret Snider of Woodbridge spent Tuesday afternoon with Ada Lewis.

The movies Monday evening were "Behind the Scenes Beneath the Big Top" and "Florida Everglades."

The Ladies of the Anglican Church A.C.W. at Kinmount came with the goodies for our Tea Party

Thursday afternoon. I wasn't there, but they tell me the food was delicious and the music after was also nice.

Bob Lyle Jr. and family of North Bay came to see me and took me for a drive. The leaves were nice but will be at their best this coming weekend.

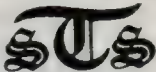

Percy Brintnell and Lola Prentice attended the 50th Anniversary of Leslie and Nina Prentice in Lindsay on Saturday.

Don Brohm and his wife dropped in for a chat with his father Charlie Brohm.

Count your blessings four by four, and it will surprise you, there are still some more.

See you next week.

Fall Courses now underway in area

by Shirley Hodgson

I remember that years ago my Grandfather told me that you are old when you stop learning. This is so true. How fortunate the people of Haliburton County are to be able to keep on learning through the classes at the School of Fine Arts.

The Fall Courses are available now and you must be sure to register early.

When we have a day such as we had on Sunday, with the sun shining on the beautiful leaves, don't you wish that you could photograph them properly? If you take the Photography Workshop this will become possible.

Perhaps you would prefer to capture their beauty with the help of the Painting Series. Maybe you would rather write about the visions which you see - by attending the Creative Writing course - or why not take out your personal aggressions by kneading and pounding the bread during the Bread Making Lessons?

There are so many classes to choose from. Be sure to gain your own personal enrichment through the various fall courses.

Be sure to visit the Rails' End Gallery to see "Imaginary Places" sculptural folk paintings by Carolyn Smith. This is on display in the Waiting Room.

Carolyn will be teaching a workshop October 4 and 5. The cost is $30.00 for the two days plus $20.00 for materials. Participants must register right away.

Another workshop will be held Saturday, October 18 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, October 19 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at a cost of $45.00. This course is called "Drafting and Colour Placement for Quilters". The instructor will be Anne Larock. Call the Gallery for more information.

The organizers of the Christmas Sale (November 22 - December 21) have met and are planning a successful sale for this year. They would like to say that Christmas tree decorations are needed as they are in great demand. They also suggest that craftspeople concentrate on small items as they do sell well.

There seems to be plenty of items for little girls but more articles are needed for boys and teenagers. Just use your imagination and I'm sure this year's sale will be successful.

Another reminder for you to purchase your ticket for a "Trip to Portugal". The tickets are available until October 11. It is not too late. Even if you do not desire to go to Portugal I'm sure the $1,500 cash will come in handy.

The Various Guild Groups are back in action and are anxious to get busy with their various projects.

The rug hookers have completed a Westborough floral mat. Draw tickets are available at the Gallery until the draw date October 11.

The knitters held their September meeting but should be reminded that an exchange of patterns will be available at the gallery during the next two weeks.

The potters are reminded that their first monthly meeting will be held at the home of Joan Hoad on September 30 at 7:30 p.m. Beginners are most welcome. If interested please phone Joan Hoad - 457-2929.

The writers group please take note of a special meeting on September 30 at 10 a.m. at the Lakeview School. Stephen Patrick will be the guest speaker at this time - as so many were unable to attend the meeting earlier this month.

Again, I say how fortunate we are to have teachers such as Stephen Patrick who are willing to teach at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

Perhaps this sounds premature however, there is a definite reason for mentioning the Guild Fashion show in May 1987. To be prepared and to insure that we will have beautiful garments; the Vogue and Butterick Pattern books are available to members at the Gallery. These patterns will be free. The first order will be sent September 26, the second order October 31.

Another reminder of the Muskoka Autumn Studio

Tour. This trip is planned for Monday, September 29. Cars will be leaving the Gallery at 9 a.m. Call the Gallery by September 24 if you wish to go.

Trent-Severn Waterway news

The effects of last week's heavy rainfall have increased the lake levels in the Haliburton region to 61% of capacity, 8% above the 10-year average with the Gull River watershed lake levels showing the highest increases.

The Kawartha Lakes filled to levels as high as 25 cm above the full level for this time of the year forcing increased flows on the Otonabee and Trent Rivers. By Wednesday, September 17, lock stations from Young's Point to Trenton were closed to navigation due to high flows in the river. Otonabee River flows at Peterborough peaked at 180 m (3)/s on Friday, September 19 and the Trent River at Glen Ross peaked at 274 m (3)/s.

Lock stations from Kirkfield to Lake Simcoe were closed last weekend, September 12 - 14, as flows on the Talbot River were increased to alleviate high water problems on Mitchell and Canal Lakes.

Lake Simcoe level was at 218.98 m on Wednesday, September 17 which is 19 cm above the normal level for this date. Flows on the Severn River have been increased, to accommodate the high Simcoe levels, but should not cause a stoppage to navigation.

The Waterway is hopeful that the entire system will be in operation by September 23 or 24 providing unforeseen rainfall does not cause lake levels to remain high. However, all tributaries and rivers within the system are expected to have higher than normal flows well into the fall.
